Ayres Mixes Dates With Chief Taylor

AFTERNOON WITNESS AGAINST LEE LET

H. M. Ayres, late editor of the Referee and now on the staff of the Advertiser, was on the stand in the Lee Let trial this afternoon. He was put on by the Deputy Attorney General Larnach.

"Did you see the defendant Lee Let on February 5, 1907?" asked Larnach.

"I did, at the store of Yuch Chong," answered Ayres. "There present were Taylor and Lee Tong."

"Did you have conversation with Lee Let prior to this meeting?"

"No," answered Ayres.

Then followed a long argument relative to the fact that Larnach attempted to prove a conspiracy, while the indictment says nothing about it. Thompson objected to Ayres' telling about his meetings with Lee Let or his agents prior to February 5, and the objection was sustained by the court.

"What transpired at your meeting with Lee Let?" asked Larnach.

"Lee Tong, Taylor and myself waited in Yuch Chong's store until Lee Let put in an appearance. We had refreshments and talked for a while on general topics. Then Lee Let said that he understood that Taylor had some private business with him, and asked that we leave the room, which we did. This was on the 5th of February."

"I may have talked with Lee Let before when I bought tea there, and I had other business dealings with him, selling him a pair of field glasses for $25," said Ayres, answering a question. Ayres described the sale as a purely business transaction. He did not remember the exact date.

The glasses were produced in court, and Ayres "safely said" they were the ones he had sold to Lee Let. They were offered as evidence.

Ayres asked to examine them a second time to be absolutely certain of their identity. Thompson did a little

Local Jurisdiction May Be Knocked Out

A. S. Humphreys this morning gave notice of his intention to raise a point, which, if he is correct in his contention, will practically knock out all the Territorial laws relative to the most common offenses against the public morals. In that case the Edmunds Act will be the only statute under which such offenses can be prosecuted here, the Federal jurisdiction in such matters being exclusive.

"The case in which the point came up was that of Blanche Martin, a French woman, who, together with a Chinese, was charged with misconduct. The Chinese pleaded guilty and was fined $30 and costs. The woman entered a plea of not guilty, and asked that Humphreys be sent for."

Humphreys took the case and asked for a continuance of the matter until

ENTERTAINERS FIND EVERYTHING LOVELY

Question Of Fleet Ball Is Satisfactorily Settled

Sunshine broke forth this morning among the members of the Entertainment Committee at its meeting held in the offices of Chairman Waldron in Spreckels' building. Everything was conducted harmoniously and in accordance with the wishes of the Executive Committee. The matter of the subscription ball to be given the officers of the Fleet when they reach here was generally discussed, everybody present expressing himself in favor of entertaining the officers and the men. On motion of John Guild, seconded by Abram Lewis, Jr., the report of the Executive Committee, appropriating $2500 for ball and outlining the necessary steps to be followed in connection with the ball, was adopted.

COLLEGE COURSE FOR ENGINEERS

Hawaii's College Will Have Best That Can Be Had

There seems to be some doubt among the eligible students for the coming freshman class of the College of Hawaii concerning just what is to be accomplished. Inquiries come from many quarters asking about the plans of the Board of Regents for instruction in the mechanic arts and engineering branches of the college work.

Professor Gilmore has been requested to secure the best available men to

HOW HE JUDGED

"That couple in the flat across the hall are evidently newly married," remarked Biggs the other morning.

"Why do you think so?" queried Mrs. B.

"They've been there a week and I have not heard a door slam once," explained the husband of his wife.

The Diamond Heads will have the band present at their dance tomorrow night. The music will begin at 7:30.

$12,000 Assured

With the assurance of $12,000 which Chairman Peck of the Ways and Means Committee reported at the Executive Committee's meeting this afternoon, the following appropriations were authorized to be credited for specific purposes: $650 for flags was moved by J. P. Morgan, seconded by McCandless, passed. On motion of J. P. Cooke, seconded by Geo. W. Smith, $750 was voted for fireworks. Col. Jones of the Decoration Committee was authorized to go ahead with the wiring and preparing for electrical display, the labor and expense of which to be borne by the Executive Committee.

Instead of Sam Johnson, who resigned as chairman of the Sports Committee, A. L. C. Atkinson was unanimously appointed. On motion of Smith, seconded by McCandless, the secretary was instructed to extend a letter of thanks to Col. Johnson.

Judge Kepoika of Maui informed the committee that he had selected some more names on the Maui fleet committee. Another letter, bearing on the same subject, was received from C. H. Dickey of the Information Committee.

A letter from County Clerk Kalanokalani, relative to the band was read and placed on file.

There being no other business on hand the meeting adjourned to 1:30 p. m. Monday.

Present were Chairman Carter, Secretary Wood, J. P. Morgan, J. A. McCandless, Col. Jones, George W. Smith, F. L. Waldron, T. Peck, J. P. Cooke.

Where Is Gwendolyn

From Captain Underwood of the schooner Robert Lewars comes a tale of the Trans-Pacific Yacht Committee, of the Gwendolyn, entry in the race from Seattle. His account to C. T. Wilder leads to the belief that the trim little yawl will never make San Pedro, from which port the race is to start. He says she left the harbor right ahead of the Lewars, and that night they ran into one of the worst storms he has ever encountered, and he does not think for a minute that the boat survived.

From cable advice, there is a belief here, however, that the little yacht missed the storm.

OFFICERS' FAREWELL TO SAM JOHNSON

Sam Johnson this morning handed in his resignation as Colonel of the National Guard at a farewell meeting of the officers under him at the Bungalow. Acting Governor Mott-Smith sat beside Sam, who called the meeting to order.

"As you all doubtless know," said Col. Johnson, "I am soon to leave the city and on that account I will not be able to carry out my duties here as Colonel of the National Guard. In the absence of Adjutant General Jones, I present my resignation to Acting Governor Mott-Smith, asking that I be placed on the retired list. I want to thank you all for the support you have given me in the past few years, and I want you to give the same support to my successor. Words

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR ROYAL FUNERAL

Feather Cloaks, Kahilis And Leis Being Fixed Up

Sixty kahilis, large and small, will be borne by the Bearers during the royal funeral of the late Prince David. Hon. E. K. Lilikalanai, who is always a conspicuous figure in all the royal receptions, banquets and funerals, has charge of the kahili section. With him are a number of the retainers, who are busy making and repairing kahilis at the home of Prince Cupid at Waikeke. Aside from the kahilis, some ahueas and other feather cloaks will be used in the procession.

The Hawaiian societies will turn out in their uniforms. Paper illamas are being made for the occasion and the funeral will be made one of the most elaborate affairs since the death of the late Queen Kapiolani.

No further news had been received by Her Majesty the Queen this forenoon.

THREE NEW EMBRYO ROAD SUPERVISORS

Wilson, Paul Jarrett And Lishman Enter Race

While the members of the Board of Supervisors are still averse to giving out anything as to whom they favor, if, as a matter of fact, they yet do favor anyone, for the position of road supervisor, and while the politicians are showing a singular apathy in the matter, the list of names of applicants is undergoing considerable changes, some of the applicants having dropped out of the race while others have decided to take a chance at it.

To Begin Borings At Pearl Harbor Monday

Civil Engineer Parks expects to have men on the ground at Pearl Harbor to begin boring operations next Monday. He is at present fully occupied at headquarters, at the Naval Station, in getting his staff in working order.

The boring operations will be of the greatest importance, as on the results obtained will depend particularly the question of what will be done with the channel. Shall it be made straight? Or must some of the twists be left in it, and the passage merely dredged well and made safe for the big boats? The answers can not be had until the engineer reports during July to the Schieffeler Board, sitting while the fleet is here. In case the borings find the ground in a satisfactory condition, the appropriations will be large enough, probably, to allow of making the channel as straight as Fort street. In the opposite case, what can be done will be done.

So, contracts and the like are matters of some speculation now. No one will know about actual constructive operations, exactly, until months from now.

The only thing is, Mr. Parks is rushing the work along, and wishes to make as clean and workmanlike a job of the whole thing as possible.

The battleships Maine and Alabama, which are to arrive here about the 15th of this month, will bring boats for use in the Pearl Harbor operations.
